Dear Samrath,

You have been admitted to an "alternate program". An alternate program offer may have been made for a few reasons. You may be missing a subject-specific requirement for the original program you applied for, OR your admission average may be below the standard used for admission to that program. The alternate program offer that is listed below may be a different program than what you applied for, or it may be the 90 credit option of the same program. In either case, the offer provided will allow you to pursue your studies at York within your area of interest. We hope that you choose to accept this offer. For additional details about alternate program offers, visit: futurestudents.yorku.ca/admitted/alternative-offers.

If, after receiving additional grade data or information we are able to make an offer of admission to your original program choice, we will contact you to let you know.

Listed below are the program(s) that you have applied to at York and the current status of your application(s):

Admission Conditions

You have been admitted with the following conditions and/or requirements regarding your enrolment in courses:

- Your admission is conditional upon receipt of your final, official Examining Board results, to be sent directly to York University or, if available, you may provide the necessary access information (e.g. examination number, card serial number, PIN etc.) to allow the Office of Admissions to obtain your online results.

To meet the conditions of your offer of admission for your chosen program of study, York University expects that your final results will be consistent with the mid-term/predicted grades submitted for your admission. Changes in your final results (from mid-term/predicted grades) may result in your offer being rescinded. Minimum admission standards for the university are required from all curriculum/school types, and these standards are available for review at <https://futurestudents.yorku.ca/admitted>.

York has implemented a COVID-19 Vaccination Mandate (go.yorku.ca/vaccine-mandate) based on the recommendation of public health officials. Universities are required under the Reopening Ontario Act to implement the recommendations of public health authorities.

Students are required to:

- disclose their vaccination status whether they seek access to campus or not, and
- if participating in in-person activities, to comply with the Mandate by providing proof of vaccination through YU Screen (go.yorku.ca/you-screen) by the date of acceptance of this offer or the date indicated in the policy, whichever is later.

Subject to permitted exemptions under the Ontario Human Rights Code, your ability to participate in in-person activities is conditional upon you attesting that you are fully vaccinated with a course of approved vaccines under York's COVID-19 Vaccination Mandate and submitting proof of vaccination while the Mandate remains in effect.
